As of November 2022, judges’ electronic reports for calendar year 2021 and later are only made available on the Federal Judicial Financial Disclosure Reports online database, pub.jefs.uscourts.gov. Judges’ electronic reports for calendar year 2020 or earlier, all reports of judiciary employees, and paper copies of all judicial officer and judicial employee reports are available by completing Form AO 10A. Form AO 10A must be completed before a financial disclosure report is released. The Administrative Office of the United States Courts maintains reports for six years; reports more than six years old will not be provided. If a report request does not specify the calendar year requested, the most recent relevant annual report will be provided.

Section 13107(b)(2)(B) requires the name and address of the individual or organization for whom the request is made. Each judge or employee’s name must be included on the request. The phone number and email address of the requester, while not required, are helpful for questions relating to a request. This information may be disclosed to members of the Judicial Conference of the United States Committee on Financial Disclosure, judiciary officers and employees who have a need for the information in the performance of their duties, and the individuals whose reports are accessed, as well as law enforcement officials who have a need for the information in the performance of their duties.
